

Exploring a healthier community together

By: Katie Porter, Director of Research Administration, Hamilton Health Sciences

At Hamilton Health Sciences (HHS), research isn't something that happens on the outskirts of health care. Health care and research come together to provide the best care for our patients. Our researchers are our health care professionals – doctors, nurses, therapists, even students. The patients and families we serve aren't just at the heart of the care we provide, they're at the heart of our research explorations.

Our desire to discover runs deep. Many of us live in the communities we serve. We understand the unique health challenges we face and recognize that we all have a vested interest in discovering alternative treatments and therapies. The vision that together, we can create a healthier future for our families, friends and neighbours inspires us.